

Uxun respects and protects the privacy of all its users. To provide you with more accurate and personalized services, Uxun will use your personal information by the provisions of this privacy policy. Uxun will treat this information with a high degree of diligence and conscientiousness.

1.Application Scope

- Uxun automatically receives and records information from your computer and mobile device when you use Uxun, which is including but not limited to your IP address, type of browser, language used, date and time of access, software and hardware feature information, and web page records of your requirements; and in accordance with section 7 of this Policy, Uxun will collect such additional information as may be necessary to achieve the product functions listed therein.
- Uxun obtains personal data about its users from its business partners legally.
- You should understand and agree that the following information does not apply to this privacy agreement:

Breaking the rules of the law or breaking the rules of Uxun and what Uxun has done to you.

2. Information Use

- UXun shall not provide, sell, rent, share, or trade your personal information with any third party unless obtaining your prior consent, or such the third party may provide you with the services of UXun (including Uxun affiliates) individually or jointly. While terminating the service, it will be denied access to all these materials that it was able to access before.
- Uxun does not allow any third party to collect, edit, sell or disseminate your personal information for free in any way whatsoever. Uxun shall have the right to terminate its service agreement when any Uxun' s user is engaged in the above activities.
- Uxun may serve its users by using your personal information to provide information that you are interested in. This includes, but is not limited to, sending you product and services information, or sharing information with a UXun partner, for sending you information about their products and services, which are required your prior consent.

3.Information Disclosure

Uxun shall disclose all or part of your Personal Information by your own will or legal requirements:

- Disclosure to the third party with your prior consent;
- Disclosure to the third party, the administration, or the judicial institution in terms of the relevant provisions of the law.
- Disclosure to the third party, if you violated the laws or regulations of China or Uxun service agreement and rules.
- If you were a qualified intellectual property complainant and lodged a complaint. At the request of the respondent, it is disclosed to the respondent for resolving the possible rights disputes in two parties.
- Disclosure others that considering appropriate under laws, regulations, or website policies.

4. Cookies Use

- In the case that you do not refuse to use cookies, Uxun shall set or utilize cookies on your computer so that you can log in or use Uxun platform services or functions that depend on cookies. Uxun shall use cookies to provide you with more comprehensive and personalized services, including promotion services.
- You have the right to choose whether to use cookies. You can refuse to accept cookies by modifying your browser settings. Please note that you may not enjoy the best service experience and a certain service may not be used if you stop using Cookie.
- All information obtained through cookies created by Uxun shall apply this Policy.

5. Information Security

- Uxun account has the security function. Please properly keep your test number and candidate number information safe and secure. We take security measures to protect you. Despite the above security measures, please note that there are no "perfect security measures" on the information network.

6. Children's Online Privacy Protection

- Protection of children's personal information is Uxun's priority attention. You must obtain the consent of your parent or legal guardian before using Uxun's services if you are a minor under the age of 18. Uxun protects children's personal information in accordance with the country's laws and regulations.

7. The information we collect

We only collect the necessary information to realize the function of the product in accordance with the principle of legality, proper, and necessity. Look up [Business Functions Of Uxun & Acquired Information List] to see more detailed information.

- The information you voluntarily provide to us during using our service
 - Uxun shall collect your audio data when you log in and broadcast the audio with the microphone on.
 - Uxun shall collect your video data when you log in and broadcast the video with the camera on.
 - Your photos shall upload to Uxun when you use the photo share function after logging in.
 - You shall upload your facial recognition information to Uxun before using face recognition functions.
 - Uxun shall produce the necessary log information that helps locate and solve problems to improve the user experience.

- The information we collect during you use the service
During you use Uxun' s services, we may automatically collect relevant information and store it as service log information. It includes:

- Device model, operating system version, and unique identifier to optimize the application for fitting your device better.
- Software version information to check whether the current application is the latest version, or automatically upgrade the new version.
- Information during using Uxun service and service fault log to troubleshoot and solve the problem for our technical team.

- The device permissions we obtain when you use the service.

- Allow displaying windows

When using Uxun service, it is allowed to return to the desktop to display the window when the screen share function turns on.

- Allow access to the camera to capture photos

When using Uxun service, it is allowed to turn on your device' s camera to capture videos and broadcast to other attendees.

- Allow access to the microphone to capture audios

When using Uxun service, it is allowed to turn on your device' s microphone to capture audios and broadcast to other attendees.

- Allows modifying the sound set

When using Uxun service, it is allowed to set the speaker volume

- Allow access to the network connection

Uxun is allowed to connect to the internet to properly use the network functions

- Allow running the background process after screen off

Uxun is allowed to accept other attendees' voice even if when you lock the screen during the exam for personal reasons.

- Allow access to the device's status

Uxun is allowed to get the Device ID as a device identifier and get the system version number when it crashes and is in other logs.

- Allow obtaining the status of network information

Uxun is allowed to get access to the status of a device connecting to the Internet. Before giving the referred hint from network status, including broadcasting, Uxun shall alert you whether using a mobile network to broadcast when Uxun recognizes your device is using the mobile network.

- Allow reading or writing to external storage

Uxun is allowed access to the application storage directory, which is used to read or store application operating logs, crash information, and configuration files in application settings. It is also used to store a whiteboard picture during the application running.

- Allows access to the current Wi-Fi status

Uxun is allowed to determine the Wi-Fi network state, and give a better guide tip based on the state.

- Allow requesting the installation packages

When Uxun detects a new version releasing, it is allowed to download the new version and automatically jump to the upgrade interface to install.

8. How to use the collected information

- We strictly comply with the provisions of laws and regulations, as well as the agreements with users. We shall use the collected information for the following purposes. If we use your information for any purposes beyond them, we shall explain it to you and obtain your consent.
- For a better experience, improving our services or other purposes with your consent, we may use the information collecting from certain services to our user research analysis and statistics services, subjecting to compliance with relevant laws and regulations.
- To secure the service and help us to understand Uxun performance better, we may record the frequency of the application, fault information, overall usage, performance data, and the source of the application. We do not combine the information we store in our analytics software with the personally identifiable information you provide in your application.

9. Information Storage

- The location of the stored information

We will store the personal information which is collected within China in accordance with laws and regulations. We will strictly comply with the law if we transfer your personal information from domestic to abroad.

- The duration of the information storing

In general, we retain your personal information as long as the necessary time for our purposes. When you use the Uxun application, we need to keep your video information to ensure normally using Uxun service. when you log out Uxun, we shall delete all the information which is requested from the exam.

When our products or services are ceased, we shall notify you with notifications pushing, announcements, and other forms, then delete your personal information within a reasonable period.

10. Changes

- We may update and revise this guideline in due course. When the terms of the Guideline are revised, you will be noticed by push notifications, pop-ups, or other appropriate forms when you log in.

11. Disclaimer

- When government agencies require the disclosure of personal data from Uxun' s website, in accordance with legal procedures; Uxun will provide them at the request of law enforcement agencies or for public safety purposes. Any disclosure of Uxun' s website is the liability exemption.

Uxun is also not liable for:

- Any disclosure of personal data due to disclosing the examination number and the examinee number or sharing the account number with others by yourself.
- Any temporary shutdown caused by a computer problem, hacker attack, computer virus invasion or outbreak, or government regulations; the disclosure, loss, theft, or alteration of personal data caused by force majeure, including but not limited to war, invasion, terrorist attack and natural disaster affecting the normal operation of the network.
- Any legal disputes and consequences arising from the disclosure of personal data caused by other websites linked to Uxun' s website.

12. Contact Us

We, ATA Assessment Technology (Beijing) Limited, is a company registered in Beijing, China under PRC law. If you have questions or requests about the privacy or your personal information, please contact us via email [service @aitestgo.com].